Talk training testimonials

Gethin Jones CEng MIET MIRSE, Technical Director, Amey Consulting:

I found the ILM level 5 in Leadership and Management rewarding and challenging. It covered many subjects, such as strategic planning, that I previously had not had great deal of exposure to, but the experience of researching and completing assignments on such subjects as part of the course means I can approach similar tasks in my current role with confidence. I particularly liked the way the course was setup with a lot of emphasis on self-study but with monthly meetings with the tutor to provide guidance and feedback and also workshop sessions in groups who were undertaking the course at the same time which provided opportunity for discussion, this meant I could fit the course work around my day job. The online portal was also very useful since it provided an up to date measure of my progress by clearly indicating the units that I had completed and those that I had left to do, all assignments were submitted via the portal which I felt was a very efficient way of working.
