

Diploma in Project Management Level 4 Higher Apprenticeship

Who is the qualification for?

The Project Management Diploma is suitable for employees who are already employed in a Project Management role but with no professional qualification. This is an integrated qualification which includes requirements for both technical knowledge and practical competence.

Benefits for the learner

- Develop the set of skills in: Principles of Project Management, Project Stakeholder Management, Project Communications, Managing Project Risk, Managing Project Scope, and Managing Project Finance.
- Offers greater access to the Project Management profession for those wishing to develop key competencies that form the basis of a successful Project Management career.
- Provides the underpinning technical knowledge required to manage projects which links with the practical experience required from the workplace.
- Gain a recognised qualification to further develop and enhance own Continuous Professional Development.

Benefits for the employer

- Fully funded by the Welsh Government.
- Improve productivity by enhancing the skills and expertise of your staff.
- Develop and retain staff by providing progression and learning opportunities.
- Optional units can be tailored to support business requirements.
- Flexible delivery to support business needs avoiding disruption as training delivered by appointment, within the workplace or via digital platforms such as Microsoft TEAMS.

Talk training testimonials

Tracy Redman, Cwm Taf Morgannwg University Health Board:

Thank you to Talk Training for matching me with an excellent assessor who definitely went over and above to get me through this qualification. I am so very grateful for the support, encouragement understanding and patience I received through what has been a very difficult time for everyone. I started the qualification Project Management level 4 Higher Apprenticeship during COVID 19 and met many challenges along the way and the quick change to MS Teams meeting enhanced my experience and enabled me to complete this qualification. Well done to Talk Training for responding so quickly and finding a way to sustain the delivery of my qualification.

Sarah, Ateb:

I am doing an NVQ 4 in Advice and Guidance. This qualification will enable me to give a better service to ateb customers. My talk training assessor is really reassuring, helpful and supportive. They are very experienced in our field of work and I can approach them whenever I need to if I need assistance with anything. This NVQ 4 is great because a lot of the work is focused on the job and the assessor can come to our workplace and observe us doing what we do everyday.
